Survey for HRI managers

Poke, an application for employees in good standing. A survey declaration is required when an employee starts or ends a shift (collect, archive, and consult your survey results at any time)

Unlimited custom questionnaires:

- Take and store the employee's photo; Use an external thermometer approved by the public health and record the value in the declaration form; Have the employee sign the declaration on a touch screen; Receive an email alert if one or more of the employee's answers are not compliant
- Interfaced with Maître'D and available autonomously.
- Speed: the registration of an employee's data is done in less than 2 minutes
- Flexibility: create your own surveys and customize the display
- Efficiency: free yourself from paperwork, archiving and administrative hassles
- Versatility: also use Poke to create confidential surveys to get feedback from your employees at the end of their shift
